Content

Inclusion is no longer a foreign concept, relegated to Human Resources training in big companies. It is a core competency for every one of us, in every context.

Inclusion and diversity are not the same, for many times diversity is a given, while inclusion is a choice (The Learning Gym), and it's this choice that we will explore through this interactive workshop/seminar together.

Learning outcomes

- Students are able to understand themselves and others better to create and live a more inclusive environment.
- Students gain a new perspective when interacting with people and bringing potential unconscious biases to light.
- Student's intercultural communication skills will be reflected and enhanced.
